NAITHLES Mutual Life Insurance Company, No. 58, Wall Street.—After mature deliberation, the Trustees have become convinced, and the experience of oblestablish ed companies fully warrant the conclusion, that the advantages of Life Insurance on the Matual plan, may be extended and diffused with greater convenience to a large class of contributors, and with equal security to all the assured, by requiring no greater amount of the premium to be paid in each than the company will require to meet its engagements with promptitude and fouclity.

will require to meet its engagements with promptitude and facelity.

It has accordingly been determined that in all cases where the annual premium shall amount to $50, and 60 per cent thereof shall have been paid in cash, an approved note may be given for the remaining 40 per cent, payable twelve months after date, bearing say per cent interest. The interest to be paid annually, but the principal mot to be called in unless the extencies of the company require it, giving sixty days notice, and then only by assessments pro rata to the extent that may be required to meet the engagements of the company.

It is confidently anticipated that a system, the operation of which is so feir and equitable, so well eabrulated to place the benefits and blessings of lafe insurance within the reach of all, and at the same time en-oble each contributor to share equally and fully not only in its beneficent security but also in its profits of accumulation, will meet, as it is believed to deserve, the favor and confidence of the public.

Also-a bill from H. R., declaring the Louisa fork of Big Sandy river a navigable stream; passed.

Reports from Select Committees.

Mr. PEYTON from select committee, reported a bill providing for a special term of the Franklin circuit court to commence on the 18th day of January to hear and determine the suit of Benjamin Hardin against the 2nd Auditor, now pending in said court, and for a special term of the court of Appeals to commence the 25th day of January, to hear and determine any appeal that may be made in said case from the decision of the circuit court.

Mr. HELM had hoped that this subject would have passed off without the necessity of any remarks from him. His delicate position, in consequence of the relation he sustained towards one of the parties, would, under ordinary circumstances, induce him to remain silent. The peentiar facts of this case, however, forbade it. What are these facts! The Governor of Kentucky had created a vacancy in the office of Secretary of State, or had declared a vacancy to exist in that office, and appointed an individual to fill it. The Secretary of State had come here to appeal to the Indiciary, to sustain his rights; he had made that appeal-the case had been heard by the court, and the Judge, for reasons best known to himself, had postponed a decision The Governor, voluntarily, has come into the Senate and spread a series of charges against the conduct, and character of the Secretary upon the public records. The Secretary has met and confronted these charges, and now, when the whole proof has been heard by the committee, it is asked to transfer the case to the Judiciary again. In this controversy the truth or falsity of certain charges against the Secretary is involved, and yet we have an intimation of an opinion from the Judge, to whom the bill on the table refers this case, that it is not proper for him to go into an investigation of that matter. (Mr. Helm here read an extract from the brief of Mr. Hardin's counsel in the trial in the Franklin circuit conrt.) In what condition, then, does this place the Secretary of State! The Governor says that a vacancy exists, and this is to be deemed conclusive and no proof is to be heard. Mr. II. appealed to the Senate, whether a citizen charged with high public trasts could be branded with dereliction of duand there existed no tribunal with power to hear his defence. Will the Judge of the Franklin circuit court, now open the case for proof! Does the bill provide for it! And if he should be willing to do it, the witnesses, some of them residing at a consider able distance. have gone, and their presence again. could only be procured with great difficulty, if at all. All the facts are in possession of the committee; and shall the case in its present stage, and nnder all these circumstances, be sent back to the Judiciary! This was not an entirely new case. The Governor of Kentucky, had before this, assumed the exercise of powers which did not belong to him, some 15 or 20 cases could be found recorded in the public archives-all remembered the case of Bruce and Fox. Mr. H. referred to the Illinois case, one very similar to the present, in which the Senate had given an opinion, and the courts afterwards quoted, and relied on that opinion. In this case the Governor had declared, that a vacancy existed in the office of Secretary of State, and had communicated to the Senate the facts, upon which he predicated that declaration. Would the Senators now throw off the responsibility of an inquiry into the truth of those facts! Besides, does any Senator know, whether, Judge Brown is prepared to give a decision in this case. Has he been so communicative as to disclose to Senators or others, that he is willing and ready to do now, what his convenience or inclination would not permit him to do at the last regular term of the court! If he is not disposed to do it now, can you compel him to give a decision! Can you compel the Judges of the court of appeals to come here and sit in this case! One of them passed through this place a few days since on his way to the South, and another resides at a distance, and yet the bill provides for the sitting of the court on the 25th inst .-The Governor has brought the case before the Senate; it has been met by the Secretary before the Senate, and shall he now be thrown back to the court, to await its dilatory proceedings. An early settlement of the question is important. The constitution makes it the duty of the Secretary to attest all official acts of the Governor, and no legislation can be full and complete, without this attestation. Mr.

speech of the Senator from Hardin. That Senator speech. The bill did not provide for a change of the question from the Senate to the Judiciary, and it was unfair, by a course of argument to fix such an impression on the minds of Senators. He agreed with the Senator from Hardin as to the necessity of a speedy settlement of this question; but they liffered very materially as to the manner of that The Senate could not settle it. They may declare that the Governor has usurped a powe which the Constitution does not clothe him with, but it will be a mere idle, empty expression of opinion, which can have no obligatory force. The result of it may be an impeachment of the Governor, and then in what an attitude would the Senate be placed, having prejudged the case without the forms prescribed by the Constitution! No action of the Senate could State. Nothing that the Senate might or could do, would conclude the rights of either the Governor or shall bind the parties. It does not, however, preclude the investigation pending in the Senate. P. would not go into a discussion of the merits of the case, involving the constitutional power of the Governor. He desired a speedy settlement of this whole question, and thought that it could only be obtained The Senate might decide the question, but had no power to enforce its decision. It could only express an opinion, and the Governor might conform to it or not, at his discretion. He would throw no ceed, but let not Senators dodge the question presented in the bill before the Senate, and attempt to excite and array prejudices, by reference to that in-

Mr. BUTLER-The bill under consideration presented a novel and extraordinary proposition. There were, perhaps, 150 or 200 causes on the docket of the Franklin Circuit Court, and among them a rule against the 2d Auditor, on the application of Benj. Hardin, to show cause why a peremptory mandamus should not issue against him, directing him to issue a warrant for the payment of the said Hardin's salary as Secretary of State-a private question between Mr. Hardin and the 2d Anditor, touching the emohiments of an office. The court, at its term, for reasons best known to itself, had failed to render an opinion in this case. And now from amid all the causes involving private rights pending harried trial of a private suit in a court of law. It in that court, without petition from either party, and against the consent of at least one of the parties, the Senate proposes to select from the calendar, one of these causes, and call a special term of bound by this law to proceed with his snit, and that the court to decide it, and a special term of the Court he could not dismiss it if he chose to do so. Have of Appeals to hear and determine any appeal that | Senators any intimation from the Judge of the cedented proceeding. If he had a private suit pend- cide this question! The character of that gentleing in that court, and the Senator proposed to force man forbids the idea that he has given any such in into a trial of it without his deem it a lawless interference with his rights as a cannot force him to decide it. Will the Court such bill. The manner too, in which it was to be to nothing at last. In order that full and perfec achieved, was as extraordinary as the proposition justice may be done, this question, whenever itself. In six days the trial was to commence. How were the parties to be notified! It would take three days to pass the bill in the Senate—three ted, that he will not inquire into the truth of the more at least in the House of Representatives, for a charges brought against the Secretary of State larger body could not be expected to move more rapidly than a smaller one-it must then go to the Gov ernor for his signature—and thus the whole period is consumed: the court must be convened intimter, taining charges against the character of Mr. Harand the parties must be present at the moment or forfeit their rights. Was ever such a thing heard But the Legislature cannot compel the court, by a mandate, to give a decision in the case.

Mr. PEYTON here interrupted Mr. Butler, to nake an explanation. He did not say the Legislature could by a mandate, direct the court to convene has a right to claim, a hearing from the Senate to and give a decision in the case. The bill before them, when it should have passed through its several stages, would be a law, and not a mandate.

Mr. BUTLER understood the force of the language he used. He was addressing the Senate and not a court of law, and was not bound to a teelinical sense of the terms he might employ. He used the term mandate in its vulgar signification and as such it was applicable to the bill under considera-It ordered the Judge of the Franklin Circuit Court and the Judges of the Court of Appeals to hold special terms of their respective courts at times designated in the bill for the trial and decision of this particular case. It was not merely permissive-that would leave it to their discretion-it was mandatory.

He repeated, the Senate could not, by its mandate, compel the Judge of the Franklin Circuit Court to decide the case. But suppose he is willing to do so. The bill then directs the Court of Appeals to convene within one week from the commencement of the session of the Circuit Court. One of the judges of that court has left the State, and you compel the parties to submit the case to the remaining two; one of whom may have made up an opinion against one of the parties, and the other may be in doubt upon the question. One of the two judges, however, now from the capital, and it would be impossible to write would not submit to the decision of the Senate, but for, and get him here within a reasonable time. But the object of the mover of the bill is a speedy settlement of the question. If the Circuit Judge decides against the Anditor, he may submit; but the claim- with him as to the intention of the Governor. But ant has shown no disposition to submit to what he whatever that intention may be, the apprehension considers an aggression upon his rights. If it be of it should have no effect here, and now. The sum then decided against him, this Senate cannot compelhim to appeal before the time now allowed him by law expires. Any such legislation would be partial and corrupt, and it would be a sacrifice of his rights, which the Legislature has no power to make. proposed law would, therefore, have the same character ascribed by the Senator from Breckenridge, to the action of the Senate-it would be a barren and fruitless act. He was happy to hear the declaration in an attitude of seeming to hold on to an office.

He would require far stronger testimony to make him believe had not, as he usually does, met the question fairly that the Governor was actuated by improper or corand boldly. If he had read the provisions of the rupt motives, than to change his opinion upon a conbill, it would have prevented the necessity of his stitutional question of power claimed by the Executive. Of the integrity and patriotism and public spirit of the venerable Chief Magistrate, he had a definite opinion, founded upon an acquaintance o long standing; and from his experience and capaci ty as a jurist, he would differ with him upon any constitutional question with a wholesome distrust of his own ability. But whatever opinions he might form would be made up after calm reflection and mature deliberation, and he would then pronounce then boldly and fearlessly, there and elsewhere. Mr. BOYD had at first doubted, but further reflection had convinced him of the expediency and propriety of passing the bill under consideration. Who are the parties! The interest of the immediate pur ties to this controversy was comparatively small. They hold public offices, for the benefit not of themrestore Mr. Hardin to the office of Secretary of selves, but the Commonwealth, and the Commonwealth, represented here by the Senate, has a right to interfere, and see that her rights are fairly dispo Secretary. The proof is now closed in the courts, and question to the only tribunal which can constitut the case ready for decision; and the parties could tionally settle it, and give a final decision which not be prejudiced by a reference of the case, as proposed. There are three great departments of the government-executive, legislative, and judicial. It s the business of the Judiciary to apply the remedies which the Legislature has provided for the redress o grievances complained of. The Senate has no right to apply them. Mr. Hardin was an accomplished in the mode pointed out in the bill under considera- jurist, and he had sought the proper tribunal. Let that tribunal decide the question. That question had been fought and decided in this State years gone by, in the memorable old and new court struggle. He stood perfectly indifferent as between the parties here, and he should discharge his duty as a Senator, without fear, favor or affection.

Mr. PARKER C. HARDIN asked the indulgence of the Senate for a few minutes. He stood n a peculiar relation to one of the parties concern ed, and it might be thought by some that he had too much feeling in the matter to discharge his duty as Senator. He could not, however, occupying the position he did, suffer the occasion to pass, without ome remarks. He concurred with the Senator from last Jefferson, that this was a most extraordinary and novel proceeding. What was it! Attempting to force a citizen, by an act of the Legislature, into cannot be done. It is emphatically a cause between Benj. Hardin and Thos. S. Page. The Senator from Fleming cannot believe that Mr. H. would b be taken. The Governor's message, con din, has gone abroad on the wings of the wind, and yet the Secretary is not to be heard in his de ence. Mr. II. would not deny this privilege to the neanest and poorest individual on earth. If those charges are true, he deserves to be censured—if the are false, the people have a right to know it, and he remove the impressions made in the community. He would not say that the Senator from Breckinridge wished to deter Senators from proceeding with the investigation, as he had disclaimed it: but such was the evident tendency of his remarks. He had said the Senate in acting now would prejudge the case n the event of a subsequent impeachment of the Governor. There is not, so far as he knew or be lieved, any disposition or intention to present arti cles of impeachment against the Governor. The Senate's decision then, will have no such effect.-Whatever it may be, the Secretary will submit. He only desires an opportunity for defence, and a fair and impartial hearing. This he has the right to de mand, and with the result, be it as it may, he wil be satisfied. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Prayer by the Rev. Mr. WATERMAN.

The journal of yesterday was read by the Clerk. In the report of the evening session of yesterday, the following was omitted:

The select committee, to whom was referred the prosecution of the impeachment of John A. Dulf, Surveyor of Perry county, presented to the House a list of the charges preferred against him; and were instructed by a resolution of the House, to lay them before the Senate for trial, and to conduct the prose cution before that body.

Petitions were presented by Messrs. Owens, Hnggard, McCallister, Young, Hay, Graves, Bowmar, Dickerson, Crockett, Covington, Poor. Board, Soery, Moore, White and Steele, which were appropriate-

A message was received from the Senate, announcing the passage of sundry bills, amendments and resolutions. The Chairman of the Committee on Enrollments reported the enrollment of smidry bills, which thereupon received the signature of the Speaker.

The House then went into committee of the whole Mr. McHENRY in the chair, on the bill for the removal of the County Seat of Mason county. Mr. BEATTY continued in opposition to the pro posed removal. After reviewing his argument made on yesterday, he alluded to the pledges of the candidates for the Legislature during the last canvass. They did not concede that a bare majority in the county should be permitted to change the County The friends of Washington always contend ed that it was a matter for the Legislature to decide what majority was competent to remove a County Seat. He then came to what he considered one o the most important questions involved in this con troversy. It was, what was the number of legal voters in the county at the time the vote was taken Two numbers are insisted on by the parties: 3,044 and 2,811. He contended that the former number was the true one. The items which make up this number were named. The Sheriff had not performed his whole duty in returning the number of voters in the county. He had performed all that was for the benefit of Maysville, and neglected that which was in favor of Washington. It was evident, therefore, that 3,044 was the true number of voters in the county. This being the number, Maysville has received but a majority of one.

The next question was, whether the Commissioner's books should be prima facie evidence to the ville had received a majority of but one. He contended that this was the case, and established it by an examination of the act authorising the vote to be taken. It was a serious question, whether the vote as it was taken, was fair and legal. Several cases were cited where illegal votes were given. These were not proven before the committee. No time was allowed to make such proof, or to give the notice necessary to those concerned. The select committee decided that it had no power to determine the legality of the votes given.

Mr. B. nrged that there was not a majority of the substantial, tax paying population of the county voting in favor of Maysville. If it is contended on the other side, that there were illegal votes cast in favor of Washington, it only proves that the door should not be slint down upon all investigation, but that it should be invited and encouraged. He invited the attention of the Committee to some statistics of the county, and of the votes cast upon this question. Leaving out the precinct of Maysville and the vote of Washington, and the vote of the remainder of the county stands, for Maysville, 642, and for Washington, 1184. Throw ontall the votes of the city of Maysville, and the town of Washington, and there remains a majority in favor of Washington of 260 or 270. The injury which would result to Washington, proportionate to the advantage gained to Maysville by the change proposed, was urged upon the committee, and the absolute right of majorities torule in all cases questioned. The con- from the rancheros under Canales. sequences were detailed, which would result from the change. A new county would be demanded by those living in the remote parts of the county. Oth- called upon the citizens to enroll themselves for er towns upon the river, this precedent being estublished, would demand a like change in their respective counties, and applications for the removal of county seats, and the division of counties would become extremely numerous. Mr. B. concluded by giving a sunmary of his arguments, and returning thanks for the courtesy of the House. Mr. WALLER followed in favor of the change to Maysville. It would be supposed from what had been said, that Maysville relied alone upon the decision of mumbers. Although they had that in their favor, yet he was not afraid to meet the question upon what the gentleman was pleased to call its merits. The gentleman had said that he stood here, the representative of twelve hundred of the people of Mason, and of the widows of Washington. It was a 23, 1846, addressed to a friend in New Orleans delicate question. It was one which appealed to says: the sympathies of the House. No one was more affected by such appeals than himself; but he believed in the present instance sympathy would yield to The widows who owned real estate in Washington, owned only residences. The first public movement made in Mason county concerning a change in the county seat, was made in Washington. They proposed to submit the matter to the vote of the people.

A certificate signed by several members of the last Legislature, proves that this was their under-standing of the act. That result has been achieved, and a clear majority given for Maysville. It was declared by his opponent in the capvass of the county, that a majority-even of one-should decide the

Mr. W. next spoke of the number of voters claimed by the friends of Washington as being in the county. The estimate was too large. It was larger than the number stated some time ago in the memorial of the gentlemen themselves. But he was willing to take the sheriff's report as it was, or as it ought to have been -- or not at all-in either case Maysville would have a majority. LATE & IMPORTANT FROM THE SEAT OF WAR!

From the New Orleans Picayune of the Cd inst.

By the arrival, at a late hour last night, of the S. steamer Edith, Capt. Couillard, we have three lays' later dates from Brazos Santiago. She left Brazos on the 30th ult., and brings confirmation of the reported advance of Santa Anna with a large orce, upon Saltillo. It was reported that the Mexcan army was nearly 39,000 strong.

When Gen. Worth's express reached Monterey, Gen. Taylor had only gone six or eight miles on his narch to Victoria, and the troops under Generals Iwiggs and Quitman were but twelve miles in ad-Orders were immediately issued to this diision to retrace its steps and proceed at once to Sal-

Gen. Butler, who was in command of Monterey and already marched, with all the troops he could collect to join Gen. Worth at Saltillo.

Before the express reached Camargo, Gen. Lane nad started for Saltillo, with his command; this was on the 20th. Gen. Marshall set out next morning aking with him the remainder of the forces, with the exception of Capts. Hunter and Swartwout's commands, which were left to protect the point. The troops from Camargo were on forced march, to reach Saltillo in time for battle, reports having prevailed for several days before positive advices were received, of the movements of Santa Anna.

Gen. Wool was ninety miles from Saltillo, at the ast advices from him, and it was supposed he would join General Worth in season to assist in repelling

There was a rumor that Santa Anna had thrown body of 17,000 men between Gen. Worth and Gen. Taylor, to prevent a junction of the American forces. This report was not credited, nor does it seem probable that it is true, as the main road to Monterey passes through Saltillo. Their is a circuitons mountain road which avoids Saltillo, but it is not favorable to the march of an army, and is impracticable for ordnance.

It was the impression of gentlemen who came passengers in the Edith, and with whom we have conversed that a battle was fought about the 25th alt. It was thought, however, that Gen. Taylor had reached Saltillo before that time, and also Gen. Twiggs's, Gen. Quitman's, Gen. Butler's and Gen. Wool's commands. It was likewise hoped that the troops from Camargo would also arrive at Saltillo, in good season. If these expectations were realized, Gen. Taylor had about seven thousand men to oppose to Santa Anna. Our informant thinks that Santa Anna's army was overrated; but no positive knowledge was had of his exact numbers.

The whole valley of the Rio Grande was in a state of great ferment. Apprehensions of an attack were entertained at Camargo, Matamoras, and other points, The withdrawal of so many troops from the river left the valley exposed to danger. At Matamoras, Col. Clarke had service, and at the Brazos Gen. Jessup had done the same thing. Both these points were sadly deficient in both men and arms. It was thought that Canales had 2000 men under him, and that the large supply of goods at Matamoras, and the exposed condition of the city, might quicken his conrage.

Gen. Scott arrived at the Brazos on the 28th ult. The following day he proceeded to the mouth of the Rio Grande, and was yet at that point when the Edith left, waiting the arrival of the horses belonging to the regiment of mounted riflemen, when it was understood he would proceed immediately up the river to Camargo.

A letter from a gentleman at Tumpico dated Dec.

That the Mexican Congress have decided that the war shall not cease, nor will they receive commissioners to treat for peace until every hostile foot has left the soil of Mexico and every ship that lines the coast is withdrawn. They have further resolved that they will accept of no foreign intervention whatever, to bring about a peace.

FRANKFORT CEMETERY.

THE Company regret to state, that owing to the trespasses Committed in putling flowers and fruit, breaking shrubery, walking on the borders and resting on the rails of the euclosures, on SPNHAYS, they are compelled to chose the gates on each SABBATH, and that no admittance can be obtained on that day. While they most carnestly request every visiter to abstain from walking on the borders, or touching any flower or shrub of fruit, they pledge themselves to prosecute (for the heavy penalties imposed by the charter,) any person who may commit the slightest trespass. The grounds are now being improved at a very large expense, for the comfort and ornament of our town, and we ask the aid of our citizens, both old and young, in refraining from the slightest act which may be an example for others to commit any trespass whatever.

Persons can visit the grounds during the week in carriages or on foot, but no one can be admitted on horseback. Horses can be tied at Mr. Page's residence on the hill.
